No

Please provide reasons for your view on Theydon Bois:

Coppice farm is the outstanding available site. Everyone I have spoken to in the village would choose that out of the three, yet it did not get chosen, no doubt by people who are unfamiliar with the village that I have lived in all of my life. The draft puts forward choices that will cause chaos and health and safety issues for many people in the Village. I've heard the Corporation of London are concerned about buffer land between any building on Coppice Farm and the forest, yet the forest is backed onto by gardens all the way up Coppice Row and I don't see what gives them any power over this issue anyway, its not their land.

You should use the most suitable site for building in Theydon Bois, keeping the wellbeing of the current population mind, and that site is most definitely Coppice Farm, which you originally suggested could site up to 68 homes, I think.
