Letter or Email Response:

Hello, the proposals for building at loughton tube and library will be out of place and give the town a crowded feel. There's no provision for increased nursery, school or doctor spaces. Plus the central line is already running at - or above - capacity. A greenfield new town/village would be much better (provided it came with schooling in the plan). The building on Debden's green spaces is also a terrible idea. They were put there for a good reason, please don't build over them.
