Letter or Email Response:

I would like to say I do not mind new homes being built in North Weald but I object to where they are thinking of putting them and the amount. I think the roads will not cope with the amount of new cars that will inevitably appear, specifically on the main road through North Weald and into Epping. If, however, the houses are put on unused space on the airfield, possibly with their own shops, in a self contained area I would feel this is a better option as the main road would then become less congested. I also think there should be fewer houses as the services in the local area will be put at a strain. The doctors surgery, for instance isn't open every day of the week as it is and I can't see how adding so many more houses will not be a burden.
