

New Recruits!

With all the usual things going on around site it was a normal day for our Site Administrator, Lisa Hatch, until she went into the print room and found a family of ducks by the printer! Lisa said "they must have been disorientated and the Mummy Duck just waddled in with her tiny little babies behind her. She walked right inside the building, then wandered into our Printing Room". The family were safely ushered from the building to continue on their adventure.

A colleague commented that Lisa's surname being 'Hatch' was very appropriate!

A family of ducks visiting site