RE: Jessel Green - Loughton

Nearly 5 years ago we moved into our house

The green was definitely the selling point.

idea that they could have their own space

The green is what makes this area different from other estates. People group together on the green, socialising, exercising, picnics and fun days.

It's a space that clears you mind in the mornings, an area that's a peaceful getaway right in the middle of a busy community.

Quite honestly, the thought of this area being built on fills myself and everyone who lives here, with horror. MORE houses for Debden. MORE bricks and concrete. Goodbye to green, nature and trees.

Surely with all the current building our area has been punished enough?

I'm proud if everyone for standing together and fighting this campaign. We have done so much to get Jessel Green removed from the plan, as usual our community have stood up and showed that we WILL be heard

I won't even bother to go into the fact that we don't have the facilities to deal with all the extra families. I'm pretty sure you will have worked out the fact that it's not viable.

The estate agents, at least, will do well - because everyone who has lived here for years will be putting their houses up for sale. There is no chance we can stay once the area has been over populated and trashed.

I don't want to move from here. I love living here, I love the schools, I love the people, I love the old fashioned sense of community. Please help us preserve this.

Help us to Save Jessel Green. Stop this madness. Remove our beloved green from this soul destroying local plan.

Many thanks,

Mr Nick Winger
