New housing = a must in new infrastructure however not at the detriment of the green belt land.

Agree

Please explain your choice in Question 2:

Housing in sensible locations, where schools, doctors and transport links can make the new developments a success NOT to over populate areas where little can be done to improve the capacity in schools, doctors or transport links other than make them more strained than they already are which in time will make desired areas less attractive places to live therefore having the reverse effect to objectives outlined in Q1.

Agree

Please explain your choice in Question 3:
